EVENTS OF INTEREST IN AND OUT OF TOWN

Third Musical of the Series Given at the White House Last Evening.

Russian Ball at Rauscher's Tomorrow Night—Holcombe-Brooks
Wedding—Dinners—Notes.

The President and Mrs. Wilson were hosts last evening at the third musical in the series they are giving at the White House.

There were several hundred guests present from diplomatic, official and resident circles and they were received by the President and Mrs. Wilson in the green room, Col. W. W. Hart's military aid to the President, making the presentations.

Mrs. Wilson wore a beautiful gown of black velvet, with touches of blue.
Following the program a buffet supper was served in the state dining room, which, like the other state apartments, was adorned with spring flowers, palms and ferns.

The program was given by Mr. John Powell, pianist, and Mr. Vernon Stiles, tenor, with Mr. Harry Hays Shelley at the piano. Mr. Powell opened with a series of selections by Chopin, after which Mr. Stiles sang, first in German, and then from "Mozart's" Les Huguenots, "MacDowell's" "To a Wild Rose" and "Shadow" Dance, followed by the later selections played by Mr. Powell, and Mr. Stiles closed the program with "La Matinata" and "L'Adieu."

Marked interest centers about the Russian ball to be given at Rauscher's tomorrow night, under the patronage of Mrs. Bakmeteff, wife of the Russian ambassador, for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers of Russia.
Professional dancers from the Russian ballet are announced to give a series of dances between 11 and 12 o'clock, and this feature alone is expected to prove one of the most delightful and unusual novelties provided at any ball here in recent years.
The Russian headress, the kakosh-nik, will be generally worn, giving a picturesque touch to the assemblage.

A number of women interested in the affair are the possessors of jeweled headresses of great value, while others have had them made especially for the occasion.

One kakoshnik to be worn by a prominent matron is eight inches in diameter and stands eight inches high.
It is heavily encrusted with jewels and finished at the back with long loops of ribbon.

The ball will be given under the patronage of a number of smart women, including Mrs. Harriet Blaine Beale, chairman; Mrs. Bakmeteff, committee in charge; Mrs. Garrison McClinton, Mrs.
William Stier, Mrs. William Corcoran, Eustis, Mrs. Marshall Field, Mrs. Clarence Wilson, Mrs. William Littauer, Mrs. Henry Belmont, Mrs. Edward B.
McLean, Mrs. Henry Cleveland Perkins, Mrs. Montgomery Blair and Mrs.
George Howard.

The boxholders include Mrs. Bakmeteff, Mrs. Jusserand, wife of the ambassador, Lady Spring-Rice, wife of the British ambassador, Mme. de Gama, wife of the Brazilian ambassador, Mrs. Marshall Field, Mrs. C. C.
Hoover, Mrs. Eugene C. Hooper, Mrs.
Perry Belmont, Mrs. Francis Berger

Supper will be served at midnight, and already the ball promises to be one of the most brilliant affairs of the season.

The British ambassador and Lady Spring-Rice will entertain at dinner of the Vice President and Mrs. Mar-place last evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents on Cathedral avenue.

Only the relatives and a few intimate friends witnessed the ceremony, which was performed in a lower of pinks, ferns and white roses in the drawing room by Rev. Henry Anstadt, pastor of the Lutheran Memorial Church.

A stringed orchestra, hidden behind a screen of palms, played the wedding music.

The bride, who was escorted and later given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite gown of soft white tulle valued in value to the bride of tulle finished with a jacket of point lace.
Her tulle veil was held with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

There were no attendants but the bride's sister, Miss Ruth Nelson, wearing a lovely gown of pink chiffon, held the bride's bouquet during part of the service.
